The Protektor Grom tactical boots made of high-quality velour leather are a guarantee for reliability and professionalism. They are made with the latest SHOCK ABSORBER technology, ensuring a high level of comfort and exceptional resistance to damage and weather conditions. The special lining wicks away excess moisture to the outside, making the boots easier to use on a daily basis. They fit ideally to the foot, which significantly increases wearing comfort. A wide range of sizes makes finding the right work boots extremely easy.
